Description

Remember that beautiful evening when everything seemed to take on a golden glow mixed technique From Peter Stopper's series of JEWELS OF CORNWALL Cornwall openly shows it's unique beauty to the sensitive observer. Peter Stopper conveys architecture and the structure of the landscape through his free-spirited creativity. Creativity arises when the courage to create new perspectives replace old ones. A painting is full-value when it reflects the painter's soul. Abstract elements in a painting emphasizes the individuality of the artist and inspire the observer's imagination.
